B.C.S. - BAND

Senior Band Members

J. Neumann, T. Rehm, S. Scott, K. Kineke, C. Curren, H. Monroe, M. Ross, B. Murray, E. Cook, S. Robinson, M. Millington.

STAGE BAND

B. Curren; L. Smith; S. Quigan; S. Welton J. Jamb; K. Curri; G. Mason; (Director) S. Scott; D. Pratt; T. Rehn; K. Kineke; B. Russell

The Bolton Central School Stage Band was formed in the fall of 1975. Aside from performing in various concerts and at the Lake George Holiday Inn, many of the members have attended jazz clinics and concerts throughout the northeast. This year the Stage Band plans to combine the sounds of pop, disco and the "B 'Band" in the various scheduled Bolton Central School concerts..

Many thanks to Mrs. Dorr and Mr. Greene for their help and cooperation in preparation for our Prom. We tried something New and with your help it worked.
 Also much appreciation to the following people:

John D'Ambrosio
 Joe Deppe
 Baird Hiser
 Tim Pierce
 Jacoba Hernandez

Last Will And Testament

Tom Anable-leaves his drinking ability to Mitchell, his Clearasil to Garth, his old gym socks to Daryl Cleaveland, and to Sylvia an eight by ten glossy (take it easy on your eyes.)

Megan Baker-wills to Leslie Hiser a cork and a bottle of white champagne, and Baird can only have a sip so he won't get drunk. To Jennifer Smith a pong to keep at her house, and to anyone who needs it my Chemistry review book.

Mike Cameron-leaves to Daryl Cleaveland his punching ability, and his place in line to Claire.

Charlie Codocovi-leaves to Katherine Smith his blue and white checkered shirt, to Greg Smith a bottle of yoo-hoo, and to Lynn, Erik, John D, Kelly T, Larry H, and any other Longislander the ability to graduate from B.C.S. without going nuts first.

Ed Cook-leaves the ability to goof off all four years like he did to his brother, and the ability to get out of high school to my sisters.

Edi Cook-leaves to Ruby her athletic ability because she needs all the help she can get, and to Joe and Chris the right to pay attention in English, you'll learn lots of things you never knew before.

Cindy Curren-wills her "mathematic ability" to anyone who wants it, and to my brother David my interest in science.

Karen Duckett-wills to Mary Sharpe my athletic ability, and to Allyson Sheldon the ability to do as well in 8th period English with Mr. Welton as I have.

Linda Harris-leaves to Sandy a better Senior year, to Claire a subscription to "Glamour" and a few extra pounds, and to Tommy, Kelly, and Jamie one hour to steal all of the candy in the candy store.

Kathi Kineke-leaves to Sandy my job as chief flunky for Mr. Mason, to Ickney all the tomatoes he can handle, and love and wishes to Shannon, my sisters, Scott Q, David D, John D, William, Donald, and Heidi.

Tom Koupash-wills his ability to pitch and chew gum at the same time to Rich Pierce, and to Todd Rehm his fade away punch shot.

Emmy Manss-leaves to Veronica-Ruth my ability of making 6 months last like 3 days, to Scott H, one good broom, to Heidi N, one more toboggan ride, and to Ruth R. my great sewing ability (which she doesn't need) and the ability to get along with Mrs. B.

Leslie McNulty-wills to Mr. Root her junior attendance card and the best always, to Kathy Smith-Frampton, to Robin all my support, to the class of "78" plans, dreams, and all the luck, and to the "76" school board all the joy in the future that we had in Washington.

Mike Millington-wills to Mark Totzke my mopping ability, to Bob Pfau my driving ability, to Frank Root my ability to love the Braves and McAdoo, and to Vicki Pratt my modesty.

Holly Monroe-wills to Mary Ellen Kober my math book, to Donald and William a can of hair lightener, to Larry H. best of luck in B.C.S, and to Mr. Root my Junior attendance card.

Butch Murray-wills to Danny W. my ability to start trouble in soccer without getting caught, and to Teresa I leave anything she wants.

Eric Neuffer-wills this school and all it's teachers to the unfortunate people of the future.

Jim Neumann-wills his musical abilities to Todd Rehm, and he wills "all them there good numbers" to all his C.B. buddies.

Brenda Persons-wills to Vicki Pratt my great letter writing ability, and to Mrs. Zoll the caricature I got at the sports banquet in 1976.

Cathy Pierce-leaves to Art Coon my old pocketbook that he loved so much, to the next second smallest varsity cheerleader I leave my spot on top of all the mounts (not that she'll really want it,) and to Jim Putnam, Ruth Rozell, Kelly Thomson, and my brothers I leave all the luck they'll need to graduate from this school without losing their sanity.

Teri Rehm-leaves to Tenee her extra pounds of blubber, to Todd lots of luck in band, to Scott lots of girls, and to Darren happiness always.

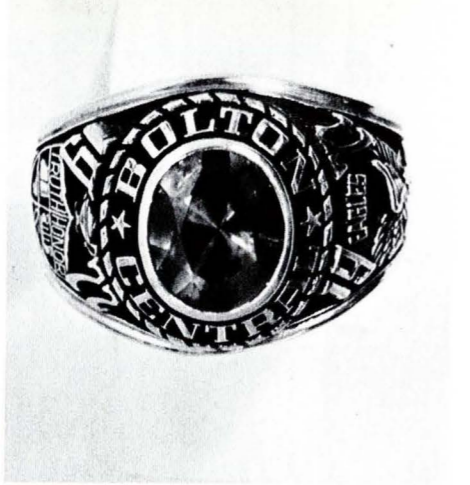

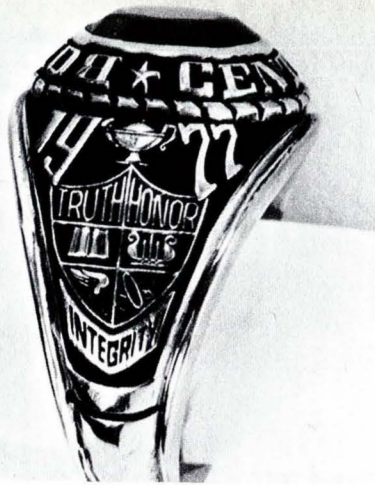

Shirley Robinson-wills to Chuck the job of walking April to school, and to April the ability to keep up with him. Also to Chuck I will the ability to get through his remaining 3 years, and to April and Dona C. lots of fun and happiness.

Margie Ross-leaves to 10A better luck in Biology than she had, to Donald and William a box of sweet tarts, and lots of luck and fun to Deanna Hewitt.

Sue Scott-wills to Bev. and Keith a 57 average in Mr. Lambs classes, to Sandy Harris 1st tenor sax, to Toni Root a big kiss from Ron, and to Lynn Codacovi all my self confidence.

Lorraine Siebert-leaves to future cheerleaders all the fun they can have with their lovely advisor, to William a wink or two, and to Donald four more fabulous years.

Scott Tennent-leaves his ability to pass tests without doing anything to Jeff, his ability to skip study hall to Kim, and his ability to build a steam engine to Jonathon.

1990

As we turn the corner in Smalltown, U.S.A. (1990) we see Tom Anable and Brenda P. Anable walking their twelve kids on matching harnesses. Seven of their twelve go to the Baker-Robinson day-care center. Near the day-care center Holly Monroe is running her world famous Diner. Every day about noon Mike C. and Ed C. roll in off their trucks. Sue and Teri are always glad to see them leave their large tips. Mike and Ed appreciate a good waitress. Butch and Jim used to frequent Holly's Diner but now they go to Mike's Place where Mike Millington does a fine job handling the patrons. This same day as Charlie, Edi, and Cindy were walking past Mike's Place they noticed a large cloud of smoke on the horizon. They hopped in a phone booth and called the Fire Department where Linda answered the phone. She immediately sent her best men, Fire Chief Tom k. and his assistant Scott. It was the ill fated Chocolate Factory. Leslie, Lorraine, and Margie were standing in the street in fitfull tears. They had lost their desire to live. Policeperson Karen began her official investigation. She found that wicked Pyro-E Emmy to blame, but couldn't catch her as she raced out of town in her truck. Meanwhile, Erick and his assistant Kathi K. begin rebuilding the famed Chocolate Factory. Dr. Bertolotti and Dr. Pierce, psychairtrists in practice were called in to help Leslie, Lorraine, and Margie handle their trauma.

And it's the close of another quiet day in Smalltown U.S.A.....

SPECIAL THANKS

We would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Bromley. Without your patience and persistence, we would have had a large collection of late passes and a nonexistent yearbook.

Dedicated To The Memory Of

Phyllis Jean Baille

Mrs. Mariel Anable

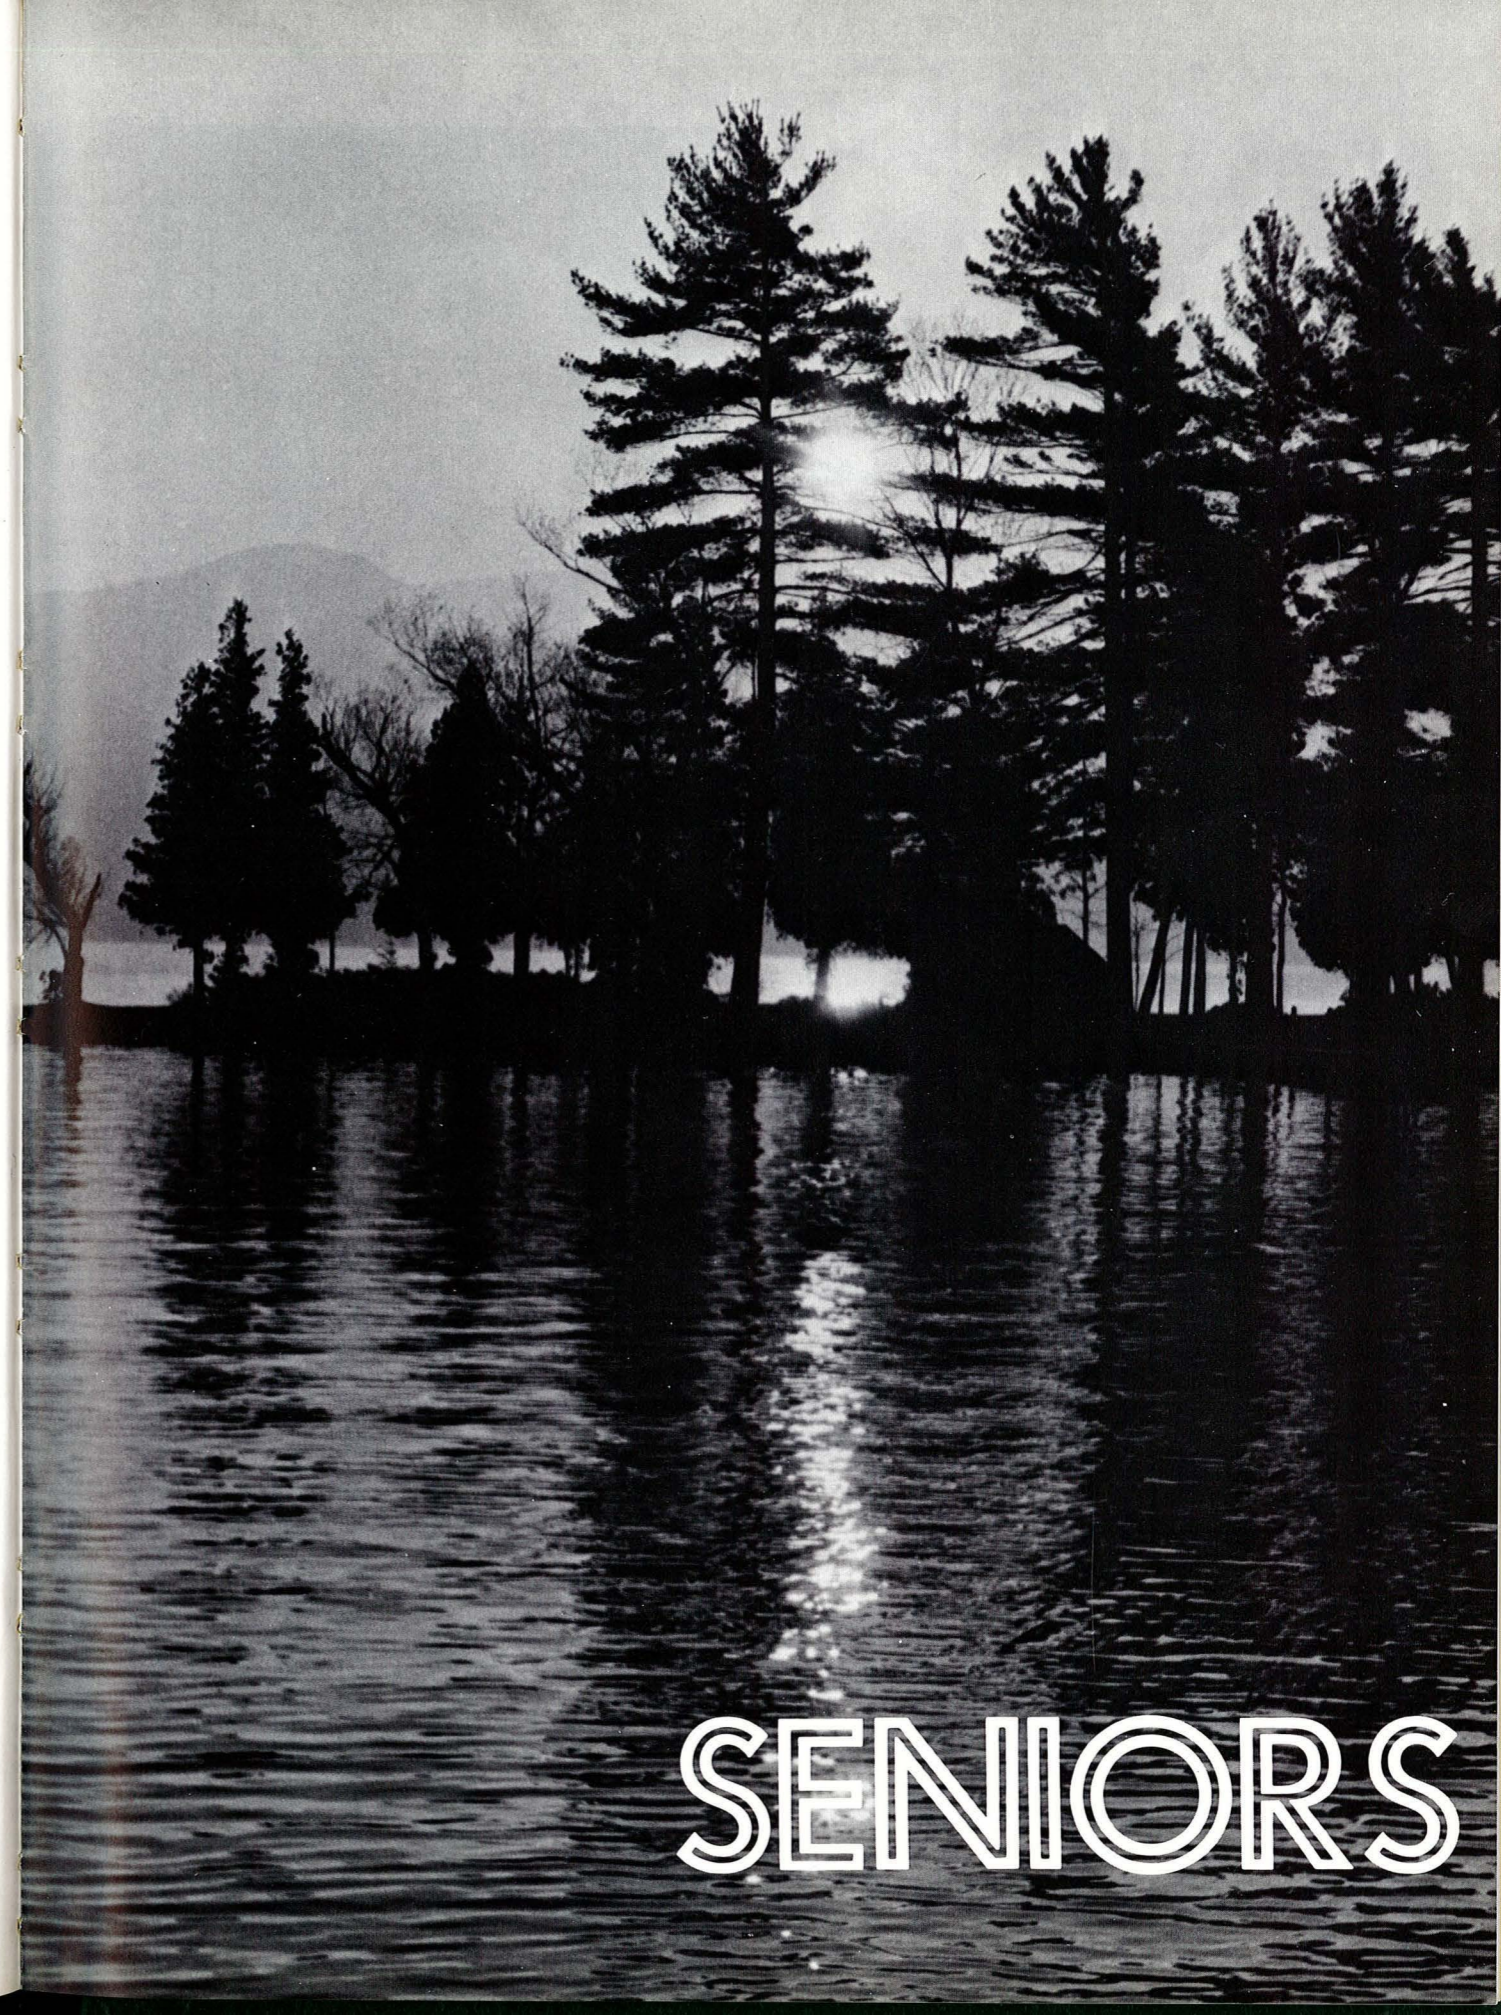

Where have you gone?
We have lost sight of you,
and cannot follow your path.

If you had only told us,
we could have relived all the precious moments and said our good-byes.

We all pray with tear filled eyes.
You were a sister and a friend.
You left a deep imprint in our hearts.

We shall never forget your smile,
and how it filled us with warmth or all the good-times that we shared.

And every night, when the sun sets,
and the moon begins to rise,
we pray that your journey
was an easy one.
